

V. Social Skills – You are comfortable initiating conversations, resolving misunderstandings, and building relationships. You thrive in collaborative settings and often influence group dynamics positively.

VI. Leadership – You can motivate, guide, and align others around a shared goal. You project emotional stability, responsibility, and vision—making you a reliable presence in leadership or team coordination roles.

