

This Stream Recommendation Initial Report provides a comprehensive and personalized analysis of your strengths, interests and personality traits. Drawing on insights from seven key dimensions—Interest, Aptitude, Personality, Learning Style, Values, Work Style, and Emotional Intelligence—this framework goes beyond traditional assessments to reveal what truly drives your performance, engagement, and satisfaction. Each section highlights your top strengths and preferences, helping you align your education and career path with your authentic self. The goal of this report is not just to guide stream and career choices, but to enable you to thrive in environments that match your unique psychological and professional profile.