

"Success is liking yourself, liking what you do, and liking how you do it."

– Maya Angelou

Why is Personality Critical for Stream Selection?

While your aptitude reveals what you're naturally capable of, your personality tells us how you'll apply those abilities in real life—through your behavior, decisions, emotions, and social style. It's the lens through which you process challenges, work in teams, lead, and adapt to change. Understanding your personality helps match you with roles, teams, and environments where your strengths are supported and your style is respected. To assess this, we used a method developed by us—SWM. Our personality model examines 11 subfactors that represent how you think, act, relate, and adjust across situations.

This report covers 'SWM', which is one of the seven components of our proprietary Auro Student Diagnostic Test, designed to help students understand themselves better and make informed stream and career choices.
